DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Luebke et al (5,449,501).

Luebke discloses a process a total hydrogenation of olefinic hydrocarbon(s) in the distillation column reactor (the abstract; the drawing; col. 2, lines 39).

In the drawing, product streams are withdrawn from the distillation reaction zone.

The terms "total hydrogenation" and "olefinic hydrocarbons" makes the Luebke process indistinguishable from the claimed bulk hydrogenation of plurality of olefins.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1797

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 2-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Luebke et al (5,449,501).

Luebke discloses a process as discussed above.

Regarding claims 2 and 3, it is expected that the Luebke process can be used to hydrogenate any feedstock having any concentration of olefins as taught by Luebke.

Regarding claims 4 and 5, if there is any amount of unhydrogenated hydrocarbons, these unreacted components should be recovered for recycle.

Art Unit: 1797

The conversion as claims 6 depends on the selected chemical reaction parameters such as temperatures and pressures which must be selected to optimize the process as called for in claims 7, 8, 12, and 13.

Regarding claims 9-11, any feedstock is expected to yield similar results provided that the feedstock contains olefinic hydrocarbons.
